

PROBLEM SET 5 : CONTENT MANAGEMENT, PART 1

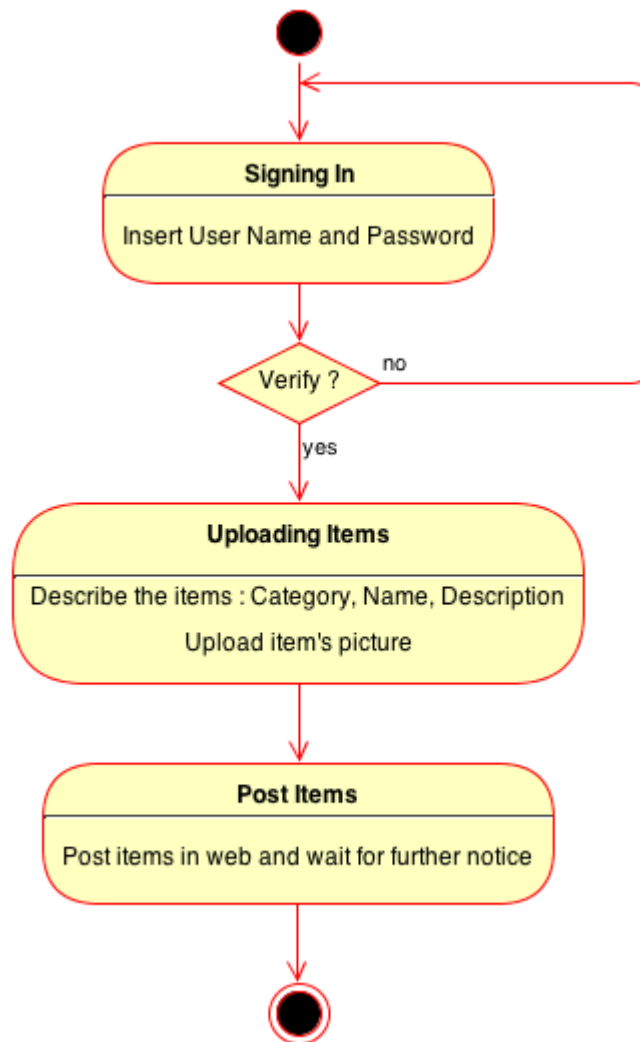

GROUP 8 : JEFF, WENY, NASA

Design your content data model and discuss the implications of your design choices with potential users of the system. In general, there should be at least one category of user-submitted content with authoring workflow specific to your project and at least one question and answer forum. However, the specifics will be very dependent on your project's requirements. Document the design and your discussions on your site

Specify the workflow for each kind of content on your site and discuss the implications of your design choices with potential users of the system. Document the workflow design and your discussions on your site.
